

Wall of Hope

Building futures for children and adults with autism – one stone at a time

The Autism Treatment Center is building a virtual Wall of Hope to raise funds for our Building Futures Capital Campaign. Proceeds from this project will help us meet $700,000 in challenge grants for our new Learning and Opportunity Center, a 21,000 sq. ft. facility that will increase access to specialized education and vocational programs for children and adults with autism in the San Antonio area.

The Wall of Hope is made of virtual stones personalized with the name of the donor(s), a company logo, or in honor or memory of a loved one. Each stone will link to a company website or to a custom web page about the donor or a person they wish to recognize. The Wall of Hope web page will be a dedicated link on the Autism Treatment Center website.

A printed version of the Wall of Hope will be displayed on a 10 ft. banner at Autism Uncovered, an official Guinness World Record event to build the world's largest blanket fort at Toyota Field on Saturday, November 18, 2017. Donors may view their sponsored stone on the Wall of Hope banner at this free community event and again at the groundbreaking and ribbon cutting ceremonies for the Learning and Opportunity Center. Once complete, the Learning and Opportunity Center will be the home for the Wall of Hope banner.
